Praise God for the Resurrection of our Savior, JESUS CHRIST

Honey Camp News

- No real news from Human services. (foster program) They didn't make it to our last appointment. We're beginning to think it is not God's timing right now, or not His program for us. Keep praying.
- Preached four times this month, once on the radio. Keep praying.
- Had a movie night at church. We showed the "End of the Spear". It was a huge success. We are considering "The Passion of Christ" for the next one. Anyone care to send us a CD?
- Felt the Lord leading us to start a boys work program on the weekends and over the summer. We will be hiring a couple of the young men from our church to help out around the property. The pay is $15.00 U.S. per 8 hour day plus room and board. We are hoping for some sponsors to assist with this. It should help keep at least a couple of boys off the streets and out of trouble. Interested?
- Palapa came crashing down in a heavy wind. Praise God, no one was hurt. Not even the dogs. Started building a new one.
- One of the ladies from our adult work team went home determined to light up our base. She has already sent us a substantial amount of money to start the construction and get some equipment. We are looking into building a wind generator tower, and installing some solar panels to assist with the power supply. I have estimated that we should be able to put together what we need for about $5,000.00 U.S. Dollars. Care to contribute to this project?

It's a cats life. Well, and a dogs. We finally got some cats to help with controlling the rodents. They have already killed one snake in the dining room. YAHOO!!!

Palm Sunday

Today is Palm Sunday. The day our Lord and Savior made His triumphant entry into the city of Jerusalem so many years ago. He was headed to the cross. An instrument of excruciating pain, and death. Those that were crucified were taken outside the city walls to a hill near a well traveled location, usually along the main roads. This was done to bring shame on the one being put to death and also to be used as a deterrent to those who would see the pain and torment. Jesus was focused on the task ahead of Him. To bring mankind into a relationship with the Father. His death on the cross would satisfy the wrath of a righteous God. A task He was more than willing to do for us and His Father.

The crowds that were traveling with Him were there for an entirely different reason. They wanted a "king" to save them from the Roman rule. They did not really grasp or understand the complexities of the Fathers will. In fact they were only set on their own desires. A short week later these same followers would be crying out "crucify Him". Jesus wept at their unwillingness to seek God's will and live for Him. And yet He still willingly walked into the city and the people that He would die for. He is our example of what the Father desires from us;

A complete dedication to the Lord!

Taking apart the old Palapa with Shaka's help, and building a new one. We hope this one will last longer than the last one.

We continue to enjoy good health, and we praise God for all He does in our lives and ministry. We are truly blessed. He continues to provide many opportunities to minister to those around us. We are building stronger relationships with fellow Christians, and reaching out to the lost with the love of Jesus.

We would like to personally thank those of you who support us through your prayers. They are vital for us to succeed in our labors. Also without your regular donations we would not be able to continue in this ministry. We praise Jesus for you and all you do.
